POS Long Grass Summary

Why is the grass left long?

There is now a big push to make space for nature, to improve habitats for wildlife and contribute to nature recovery nationwide. Part of the planning permission for new housing, issued by Lichfield District Council, required developers to improve areas of low ecological value and create new habitats. The habitats must be allowed to develop and become better than those they replace.

To meet this requirement, a specialist team including ecologists and landscape architects identified land nearby with potential for habitat improvement and creation. It was agreed that the habitat creation scheme would deliver 25,000m² of species-rich grassland and it would be managed and maintained as species-rich grassland for a minimum period of 25 years.

Once established, species-rich grassland is managed like a traditional hay meadow, with an annual 'hay crop' removed from site in late summer (late July-August) and light grazing or mowing during autumn (September – October) and/or early spring (March – April). The grassland cannot be mown regularly and must be allowed to grow long to allow wildflower species to grow, flower and set seed.

We are keeping an eye on the grassland and carefully following an agreed management plan. You can do your bit to help by not trampling areas of long grass and not letting dogs use the grassland as a toilet as this enriches the soil and encourages weed species such as docks and thistles.

We hope you enjoy this space and the nature it hopefully attracts.
